annual.

8. A licence granted under section 7, shall, unless sooner cancelled, be in force for one year from the date on which it is granted.

CHAPTER III.

Regulation of Accounts.

Duty to keep accounts.

9. Every money lender shall in respect of every loan advanced by him after the commencement of this Act and every transaction made by him after the commencement of this Act relating to any loan advanced by him before the commencement of this Act, regularly record and maintain or cause to be recorded and maintained an account in such form, language, script and numerals as the Government may prescribe.

Receipt to be given.

10. Every money lender shall, at the time of payment, give to the debtor or his agent for the sum paid by him or on his behalf, a receipt duly signed and if necessary stamped.

11. (1) Every money lender shall, on demand made in writing by the debtor at any time during the period when the loan or any part thereof has not been repaid, on payment of the prescribed fee, furnish to the debtor or if he so requires to any person mentioned by him in that behalf, a statement of account in the prescribed form and showing the amount which remains outstanding on account of the principal and of interest :

Furnishing statement of account.

Provided that where a money lender has complied with the demand the debtor shall not make a further demand for a statement of account in respect of the same loan within a period of six months from the date of such compliance.

(2) A person to whom a statement of account has been furnished under sub-section (1) shall not be bound to acknowledge or deny its correctness and his failure to object to the correctness of the account shall not by itself be deemed to be an admission of the correctness of such account.

12. (1) Every pawn-broker shall regularly record and maintain an account in which in addition to the particulars contained in the form prescribed under section 9, the following particulars are recorded, namely:—

Duty of pawn-brokers to keep accounts.

(a) a full and detailed description of the article or of each of the articles taken in pawn,

(b) the name of the pawnor and where the pawnor is not the owner of the article or of any of the articles pawned, the name and address of the owner thereof.

(2) A true copy of the entries in such account shall be delivered by the pawn-broker to the pawnor at the time of the pawn on tender of the prescribed fee.

13. (1) The registrar may inspect or cause to be inspected by any officer subordinate to him the accounts required to be maintained by a money lender under this Act.

Inspection by Registrar

(2) The money lender shall be bound to produce all books of account for inspection.

(3) If from such an inspection it appears that such money lender has committed any offence under this Act, the registrar may cause proceedings to be instituted against him in the court having jurisdiction.

CHAPTER IV.

Provisions relating to suits in respect of loans.

The maximum rates of interest to be decreed.

14. Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, no court shall in any suit brought in respect of a loan advanced after the commencement of this Act, pass a decree for interest at rates exceeding 9 per centum per annum in the case of a secured loan and 12 per centum per annum in the case of an unsecured loan.

Maximum rate of compound interest.

15. No money lender shall recover by suit interest of any kind at a rate exceeding 6 per centum per annum in respect of any loan made after the commencement of this Act under a contract which provides for the payment of compound interest.

What is excessive interest under Usurious Loans Act.

16. Where the interest charged is in excess of the rates prescribed as maximum in sections 14 and 15, the court shall presume for the purpose of section 3 of the Usurious Loans Act that the interest charged is excessive and that the transaction was substantially unfair.

Arrears of interest not to exceed principal.

17. No court shall, in respect of a loan advanced before or after the commencement of this Act, decree on account of arrears of interest, a sum greater than the principal of the original loan.

Penalty for non-compliance with section 9 or section 12.

18. Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment for the time being in force, (a) if in any suit or proceeding relating to a loan the court finds that the provisions of section 9 or section 12 have not been complied with by the money lender it may, if the plaintiff's claim is established, in whole or in part, disallow the whole or any portion of the interest found due, as may seem reasonable to it in the circumstances of the case and may disallow costs;

(b) if the money lender to whom a demand has been made under section 11 fails without reasonable excuse to comply therewith within one month after the demand has been made, the court shall disallow interest for the period of default.

CHAPTER V.

Penalties.

Court's power to suspend or cancel licence.

19. (1) Where in any suit brought in respect of a loan by a money lender, the court is of opinion that the
